DR. LOPEZ'S OFFICIAL REPORT.

(Conclusion)

Government House,
May 5th, 1891

The establishment of the Excise was a novelty, fully justified by the fact that breweries and distilleries were doing a brisk business; thanks to the Protective tariff which put heavy duties on European wines and spirits.

By some misfortune all my new projects of taxation met with a violent opposition from the newspapers, whose motives I cannot pretend to fathom. I did no more than tax tobacco, spirits, &c., as in all civilized countries. It is not clear that wine is a necessary, but even if it be, have we not better, sounder wines grown in this country than those imported.

It is asserted that my new taxes have enhanced the cost of living. Not at all. The causes of a rise in the prices of necessaries were—

1st the rise in gold; 2nd the short supply of wheat in spite of the heaviest crop on record; 3rd the forestalling among butchers and others, making meat abnormally dear by criminal combinations.

The rise of gold has proceeded from causes well-known to you. The dearness of wheat arose from excessive shipments, our crop being unusually large and of such good quality as to command high prices in foreign countries. We are considering what measures it may be advisable to lay before Congress to ensure a plentiful supply of wheat always for home consumption. The high price of meat in Buenos Ayres is simply the result of the monopoly created by the Municipality of the city.

When the extraordinary session of Congress closed, at the end of January, public attention was absorbed by the negotiations for the Moratoribus loan, which had almost reached a favorable termination, when a difficulty sprung up in connection with the Bateman Legacy, but this was happily overcome by a mixture of firmness and conciliation on our part. We had also to meet the obligations contracted in Europe by the National Bank and the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres, which we succeeded in doing, by negotiating certain internal securities. We likewise arranged the claims arising out of foreign loans negotiated by the several Provinces.

But we had not yet emerged from our troubles, as the National Bank and the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres, which had been so instrumental in bringing about the present crisis, were in a hopeless condition. The National Bank was overwhelmed with debt, local and foreign, and wholly destitute of resources. The Provincial Bank was known to be bankrupt since April 1890, when it had recourse to clandestine issues of paper money. In previous times the Provincial Bank had been of great utility, but it contained within itself all the seeds of evil, being maintained by a system of unlimited issues of currency. In late years its funds had been wasted in colossal enterprises and undue liberality of discounts.

The Provincial Bank had moreover helped the Mortgage Bank of Buenos Ayres, to no purpose, the latter having got into such difficulties that it suspended payment of coupons on March 31st 1891.

Such was the state of affairs in the first week of March, when the Provincial Bank applied to us for assistance. The National Bank made a similar request. A Cabinet Council was held, in which it was resolved to suspend all business by declaring "dias feriados," during which we might hit on some remedy. A fresh issue of paper-money seemed inevitable, and this would have necessarily led to a decree of Curso Forzoso. The public was decidedly opposed to such measures, and we summoned a council of Notables on the 7th March, at which President Pellegrini declared the primary object was to save the two State-banks.

It was resolved by the Council of Notables to try a second Patriotic Loan, the amount to be 100 millions in 6 per cent bonds, which would be given to the public at 75 per cent during 3 days, or 80 per cent after that time. The proceeds were to be handed to the Caja de Conversion, to be advanced to the two State banks in discount of good bills from their portfolios. We declared an extension of the holidays for 3 days more, and the loan was subscribed for here, while the news produced an excellent impression in London.

The result of the second Patriotic Loan was to save the State banks for a few days, and to impress the public with the conviction that the Government was doing its utmost to prevent a catastrophe. But in a monetary sense the loan was hardly a success, the total sum taken up being only 32,771,000$, and the cash payments 10,921,000$. The aggregate subscribed by all the private banks did not exceed 15,625,000$. The result was, therefore, much short of the expectations, and shewed that Buenos Ayres could not command sufficient capital to save the State banks. As for the amount subscribed in Europe it was trifling, and only served to shew a kindly disposition to the Argentine Republic.

Our last effort having thus failed to save the State-banks, we had to bow to the inevitable and declare the banks closed. It was not our fault, for our chief care, since assuming power on August 6th 1890, had been to put the State-banks on a sound footing. For example, we had begun by trying to reform the Cordoba and Santa Fé banks, whose condition was notoriously bad, but a sense of fair-play caused us to desist when we found that the National Bank and the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres were just as bad, and we still hoped to save the latter, as the public did not really know how unstable they were. If our efforts ultimately failed to save the two great State-banks we cannot be blamed for having done our best to avert their ruin.

The National Bank was in reality bankrupt on the 6th August. If Baring Brothers had not failed we might, nevertheless, have succeeded by means of the first Patriotic Loan and the issue of 60 millions of Treasury Bills in putting it again on its legs. Even in March 1891, when the second Patriotic Loan was launched, it did not seem right to us, or to anybody, to close its doors, because everybody thought it might still be saved. We did not in fact make up our mind to close the State-banks until we found what a small amount of gold was in the market compared with the volume of existing paper-money. To think of a new issue of currency would have been madness. And any such issue could only have for object to replenish the State-banks, which would be speedily drained of their last dollar in payment of depositors, leaving the banks as powerless as before to help the market by discounting. The depositors would hasten with their money to swell the deposits in the private banks, and we should have gained nothing by the fresh emission.

We therefore closed the State banks on the 7th April, resolving to answer for so grave a measure on the opening of Congress. We felt convinced that if the said banks had previously rendered great services they had been in late years productive of the most tremendous calamities.

It must be observed that the expansion of credit in late years had been the chief cause of the crisis. The condition of the currency, moreover, demanded the suppression of Free Banks with right of issuing inconvertible notes. We must now look forward to a radical improvement, in the shape of a secure, convertible currency. The law of 1881 was practically based on a single gold standard, but it may be worth while considering whether we should not be able to do better by adopting bi-metallism and making silver or gold a legal tender to any amount. The currents of trade may at any time drain our market of gold, but silver is more likely to stay with us. Moreover, it is probable that large amounts of paper-money are at present hoarded by individuals, but silver is so bulky that people would rather deposit it in the banks. We have silver mines in the republic that would receive a fresh impulse if we used silver coin; and a large quantity of Bolivian silver finds its way to our ports for shipment that might be invited to make its home in this country. The danger of great fluctuations in the price of silver depends more or less on the European markets, but as Mr. Goschen has become a bi-metallist this danger is likely to disappear.

In concluding this report I would call the attention of Congress to certain facts that shew our finances are by no means in a desperate plight.

Import duties, calculating the medium of the last 5 years, ought to bring in about 35,000,000 gold dollars, say £7,000,000 sterling; but, in order to be on the safe side I only reckon on $30,000,000 gold, as our normal import revenue, and since large quantities of goods in bond were despatched last Christmas to avoid the new duties I estimate that the receipts from import dues this year will not exceed $26,000,000 gold. But I consider that 1892 will produce $32,000,000, and 1894 not less than $34,000,000 gold.

Among new obligations must be counted the interest on $90,400,000 of public stock connected with the issue of the Free Banks; besides some arrears for the Madero Port, and the interest on the Moratoribus certificates in London. Also the interest on the Bateman Legacy bonds.

The value of the paper-currency may improve, and let us hope slowly rather than rapidly. Meantime my estimates shew the following surplus:—

	$ gold
1891	2,466,000
1892	10,190,000
1893	8,100,000
3 years	20,456,000

My calculations are so moderate that I feel certain the results will exceed the above figures. At all events we shall have an accumulated reserve of 20,500,000 gold dollars, say £4,100,000, by Dec. 1893, with which to face the compact we have made for resuming payment of coupons in London in 1894.

It will then be confessed that the Pellegrini Government has left no stone unturned to raise up the Argentine Republic from the prostration in which we found it on August 6th 1890.

God preserve Congress.

Vicente F. Lopez.

THE CORDOBA REVOLUTION.

For the last three weeks it has been an open secret that a revolution was brewing in Cordoba. Not a week ago the Cordoba police seized a quantity of ammunition and a large number of rifles in the residences of prominent patriots. It was then conclusively proved that there could be no doubt as to what political party was preparing the "coup." It was also known that these elements of war were supplied by political committees in the Capital of the Republic. When the discovery of arms took place and the Press blamed certain political parties for their nefarious and barbarous preparations to disturb the public peace and spill blood, the unmasked conspirators resorted to duplicity, protesting against such charges and confessing their utter impotence to upset the Cordoba Government by violent measures. Forty-eight hours later the revolution broke out.

On Thursday the telegraphic lines between Buenos Ayres and Cordoba, between Cordoba and Tucuman, between Santa Fe and Cordoba, and on Friday those between Sunchales and Tucuman were cut. This shews that the plan was well matured and all communications with Buenos Ayres were cut off. Just before the telegraph line between Tucuman and Sunchales was cut, the Minister of War managed to send through a message to Jujuy ordering the 11th battalion of the Line to go down to Tucuman where a revolutionary movement was on the point of bursting. At 10 o'clock in the morning on Friday the President of the Republic got the first news of the Cordoba revolution from Rio II station; at 11 o'clock the orders were imparted to the 11th of the Line; at midday the wires to Jujuy and Tucuman were cut. The whole affair seems to have been pretty well planned, but it fortunately failed in the most miserable manner.

On Thursday evening the patriots, headed by several cashiered army officers, turned out into the streets of Cordoba and marched on the recruiting station of the National Government, under the orders of Lieut. Col. Toscano. The station was quickly surrounded, but Colonel Toscano marched his men out, drove the patriots before him and captured nearly all of them. Meantime, other bodies of revolutionists had taken up strategic positions on the house-tops, from where they could fire conveniently on the national troops as they marched through the streets to attack—just as happened here in the July revolution. The police (history repeating itself) attacked in gallant style and had to retreat: reinforcements, however, came up, and Colonel Toscano, with the national trooops, saved the situation. The patriots, after eleven hours' firing in the dark, were dislodged as the sun peeped over the eastern hills. Colonel Toscano made three hundred prisoners and seized a lot of rifles, ammunition, dynamite, and Orsini bombs. The police and the troops lost twenty-five men killed; about one hundred were wounded. The losses of the patriots are not known, but as they fired from house tops and under cover it is to be supposed that their number of killed and wounded is insignificant.

The National Government, at the first news, intended sending to the seat of disorder two regiments of the Line; but this order was countermanded as soon as the results of the bloody affair were known in the afternoon of Friday. In the evening train of that day, Governor Garzon, who happened to be in this city, left for his seat of Government and, according to latest advices, everything is quiet again in the doctoral city.

The above is a summary of the disgraceful proceedings in Cordoba on Thursday night. Ex-President Roca said on a memorable occasion: "Disorder is no longer quoted on the London stock-exchange." During his term of Government this was an axiom, but since 1886 the old revolutionary, anarchist spirit is again abroad, and this sanguinary business in Cordoba will not be the least nor the last unless a hand of iron be felt in the Cabinet.

THE PACIFIC RAILWAY AND WESTERN CAMPS.

Travellers can now make the journey to the Far West with all the comforts of civilized life, free from the dangers and hardships of former years, including accidents by rail and delays that once were the rule in the railways going west. In the comfortable Pullman cars of the Buenos Ayres Pacific Railway, with gas above head, comfortable seats and beds, an excellent cuisine and prompt attendance, all of which reflect much credit on the management of the line, the traveller, bound for the southern plains of Santa Fe, the rolling camp of San Luis and Cordoba, and the mountainous country at the foot of the Andes, can pass the time as leisurely and as snugly as going from Berlin to St. Petersburg, or from the dirty gates of Cologne to the smiling banks of the Lake of Constance. There is only one drawback: the cuisine is in front of the train; the popular manager of the Pacific line should give orders to have the kitchen put aft, for the convenience of passengers and to avoid the sniffs that occasionally offend delicate nostrils by the present system.

Just returned from a trip to San Luis, I had occasion to remark the admirable management of the railroad, so much superior to the style of working not many years ago when, it must be acknowledged, the line was still in its infancy. The general features of the country traversed are monotonous as ever, but great improvements have been made of late. As you leave Palermo luxuriant alfalfa fields and farms follow in close succession until you reach Villa Devoto, where the hand of man has operated a wonderful transformation in a short time, certainly not two years. Innumerable villas have sprung up, and the walls of a neat chapel in course of construction give assurance of progress and civilization on this once desert spot. A joint-stock company, I think, gave life to the place, and deserves to prosper for all the good it is doing in the neighbourhood. In a few years this Villa Devoto will be a flourishing town at easy distance from the capital. Hurlingham is another pile on the foundations of good British sport, bound to go ahead. From here to Mercedes and from the latter point to Junin the country is one weary waste of flat, rich pasture land; fields of corn, flocks of sheep, and "points" of fat cattle enliven the monotony of the country.

At Junin I met a farmer on a big scale. He assured me that the locusts this season had devoured all his crops, valued at $200,000 m/n. I heard of others who had lost 15,000 fanegas of grain, say a value of $150,000. Yet, withal, it strikes one that farmers are coining money, for they are all in excellent spirits and very hopeful, as the depreciation in the currency gives them high paper prices for their products.

From Junin the train speeds along across the Mar Chiquita, where Sarmiento once intended to settle as Juez de Paz of the district. An immense lake of shallow, salty water, slightly undulating ground, like waves of green sward rolling away and lost in the flat towards the horizon. The camps around look bleak, the grass is hard, the soil is sandy: yet, the whole place is a net of splendid estancias, and Junin to-day is immeasurably ahead of the Junin of 1887. Agriculture has given an enormous impetus to this part of the country, though comparatively distant from the riparian markets.

As we approach Laboulaye we catch sight of the new bridge. All this part of the line has been renewed. From kilometres 515 to 780 the entire permanent way has been raised. It will be remembered that not long ago a rainy season of exceptional duration and a sudden swelling of the small "arroyos" inundated all this district; the waters reached a height never before remembered within the memory of living man, which is not saying much, for 15 years ago the Indian held sway here and the estancieros of Lincoln and other districts used to pay their "mayordomos" a certain amount for every Indian skull delivered to them: an effective system of extermination after General Roca's famous campaign to the Rio Negro. Previous to that campaign, Indians swarmed all over this part of the country, and but for the General's genius of organization the Indians might be still here planning their periodical invasions. As a kind of tribute to the General, no doubt, there is a station here called after him. In the vicinity of General Roca station Dr. Villanueva has a great estancia: the lands here, however, suffer from a great drawback; water can only be found at a great depth. In some places they have bored to a depth of ninety metres, yet no water has been found. It must be a good field for Artesian wells, and I am informed that Mr. Catlin, of artesian fame, is boring in San Luis. We remark a great scarcity of water, yet the culverts on this part of the line are very numerous.

At Villa Mercedes affairs reflect the crisis; there is a crisis-stricken appearance about affairs in general; outside the town, however, things are most prosperous. On Mr. Fels's estancia there are 200 squares under alfalfa and 500 squares under tillage. Alfalfa is the great industry and culture of these parts; the Chilians buy up cattle and fatten them on "invernados" from the foot of the Andes to San Luis; here in San Luis they turn the cattle into alfalfa fields, pay $2 per month per head, and fatten them in a very short time. On this basis of calculation a league of land under alfalfa ought to give the fortunate proprietor a monthly return of £12000 m/n. Bear in mind that in summer you can put eight animals to the square; here the animals can graze on the alfalfa without injuring it, no doubt owing to the sandy soil. In fact the trampling of the animals improves the alfalfa.

Although it has not rained here since last July, lands are in fair condition and cattle are fat. Mr. Santiago Beredinga has a fine estancia also in this district. It may interest your readers that at the "pulperias" here they sell Quilmes beer at $1.20 per bottle. At several estancias I picked up information about the lands and animals. I understand that in the last four years the yearly increase has been 40% in cattle and 45% in sheep; losses by disease or drought during that period were nil. All the estancieros praise the railway management and the great facilities offered for transporting cattle. At every station I saw large pens for cattle; in every train I saw scores of waggons with cattle. There can be no doubt that the cattle industry is the backbone of this part of the country. In spite of crisis, of inundations, of drought, and all other drawbacks, the cattle and sheepfarmers are doing well, and the more we develop the pastoral industry the better.

THE CARCARANA CREAMERY.

The Creamery at Carcarañá, of which Mr. James is the proprietor and manager, is an interesting place to visit, and few who go to this salubrious suburban town on the Central Argentine Railway fail to spend a short time in its cool and refreshing store-rooms and butteries.

The Creamery is built on the bank of the River Carcarañá, and is a solid structure of two storeys in height on the front facing the town, but with a greater elevation on the river side. Only a visit to the Creamery will give one an idea of the machinery and plant used in making butter and cheese on a large scale.

On a platform weighing-machine, with beam divided into seven bars, with adjustable indicators, standing on the portico in front of the building, is placed a metal receiving-can of fifty gallons capacity; into this the milk is poured as it is brought up by the waggons coming from the various farms in the vecinity and carefully weighed, a sample of each lot being tested for freshness and purity; when the can is full the indicators show how much each lot weighs, a note is made of it, and the milk is then carried by a tin conductor into a 600-gallon vat on the lower floor, whence, after the temperature has been regulated, it passes through a pipe to the cream separators, where the cream is taken from the milk, by centrifugal action, as fast as it can be run in.

The cream is carried directly from the separator to the jacketed tanks where by the application of ice placed, not in the cream, but between the tank and jacket, the temperature is reduced to the right butter-making point and the cream when properly ripened is placed in a large churn, holding more than three hundred gallons, where it is churned into a rich granular mass. The butter-milk being drawn off, the butter is hardened, or set by the application of a douche of ice-water, when it is placed on a large revolving table and passed under corrugated rollers. It is then ready to be weighed and pressed into the cubes now so well-known to the residents of Rosario. In every part of the process the most scrupulous cleanliness is observed, and at no time is the milk or butter ever touched by the hand.

When cheese is to be made of the whole or a part of the milk, it is run into three large tanks occupying the end of the making room; here by means of jets of steam from pipes which pass all around the vats it is raised to the required temperature for cheese-making. By means of various labour-saving contrivances it is cured, cheddared, and placed in hoops, then put to press in two long gang presses, in each of which twenty cheeses, by a peculiar telescoping of the hoops, may be pressed by simply turning one powerful screw. The cheese is allowed to remain twenty-four hours, when it is carried to the curing-room up stairs, where shelves are arranged for its reception. This room is always kept at a uniform temperature by means of steam tubes in cold weather, and ventilating pipes, connected with a tunnel under the building and leading to the river, in warm weather. In this room the cheese remains until it is perfectly cured and ready for market.

An ice-making plant driven by a turbine water wheel, cellars for stowing the products, curing-rooms for beef and pork, bath-rooms, etc. for the workmen, make up the detailed description of the establishment.

The creamery herd is composed of nearly one thousand head of cattle, distributed on seven different farms within a radius of two miles of the creamery. Each farm has a galpon for milking, dwellings for the families of the milkers and alfalfa pasturages. At several of these farms poultry is raised on a large scale, one of them having incubators with a capacity for one thousand eggs. At the most distant farm a large herd of fine pigs is kept, where the waste products of the creamery, whey, buttermilk, etc., skim-milk, etc., are consumed, and at several others hives of bees occupy part of the attention of the milkers.

Five pure-bred Jersey bull and 26 Jersey cows, with about one hundred and fifty cows of various degrees of "grade" Jerseys, from one-half to seven-eighths, form a nucleus for a large herd of Jerseys in the near future. Colonel Dauncey's fine Jersey bull Rioter X. imported nearly two years ago, with the Jersey cow Gossip XII. are among the cattle.

Besides the milk from the creamery dairies some twenty of the neighbouring farmers send in their milk, so that, at all times during the season, the establishment is working up to its full capacity of nearly seven tons of milk per day.

In one feature of its administration this creamery differs from most places of the kind in this country. Its doors are never closed to visitors and every process of butter and cheese-making is always open to inspection. This, to people who like to know what they are eating, is of no small importance.—Argentine News.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The London Board of the North-East Argentine Railway Co. have appointed Mr. Charles H. Krabbé director on the Local Board of the Company here, in lieu of Mr. R. Heimendahl, who resigned.

The local Board of the Buenos Ayres North Western Railway Company have applied to the Government for authority to open to public traffic the section of their line from Bernasconi to Ramon Panco stations, a distance of 29,600 kilometres. They also request that the guarantee begin to run on that section from day of opening.

A friend in Chilecito writes:—

"To day's post takes from here a petition signed by the inhabitants of Chilecito and Famatina praying the Government to continue the railway works to "Bichigasta" on a temporary scale, instead of making the "Colorados" the terminus as at present decreed. Bichigasta is a small town, 35 kils. from here, with abundance of wood and water, and connected with Chilecito by a good road. All the material for the line is collected at Tuclame and the ground is level the whole way, no embankment being required, and the abutments of the few culverts required could be made of sleepers until required to continue the line to Chilecito. Between Bichigasta and Chilecito the works have been most costly, and there is yet a great deal to be done, but what has been done is well done, some of the bridges being built entirely of dressed granite blocks. As the continuance of the line on a temporary scale to Bichigasta can be completed for the paltry sum of $50,000 gold (fifty thousand) which is really a high estimate, it would be almost a disgrace on the part of the Government not to continue the line, as it would be a great economy, the people at this end of the line being then able to protect the works already finished; while on the contrary, at the Colorado, it would be impossible for the people employed to look after them.

Last and not least, the principal mining centre of the country is left entirely in the lurch by the terminus being left where it is, and for all the good it will be the railway from Dean Funes might never have been commenced; while by making Bichigasta the terminus the mining industry will be greatly fomented; and capitalists in Buenos Ayres and elsewhere, who wish to come up here and see the mines for themselves, will then be able to do so, but will not turn their attention in this direction as long as the horrible "travesia," between here and the Colorado, has to be crossed on mule-back."

THE BOYS' ORPHANAGE.

Our readers will peruse with pleasure the following correspondence:—

Juan A. Alsina, Commissioner-General of Immigration, respectfully salutes Mrs. Maria M. de Mulhall, President of the Ladies' Committee who have founded the Orphanage for Irish Boys, and begs to say that he holds at her disposal the sum of $4,000 m/n contributed by the National Government for the institution in question.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Her Majesty the Queen is 72 years old to-day, and a marvel of health and strength; so all her subjects in the Plate can hopefully join in the wish that she may see many happy returns of the day.

We warmly salute our Argentine friends and colleagues of the Press on the glorious anniversary to-morrow. Though clouds must still hang for some time over the fortunes of this fairest of lands, they are as certain to rise again as the sun—represented in gold on the nation's flag—is to-morrow.

No Standard till Wednesday morning next, cherished readers and subscribers. We're not sorry; but it would be false modesty on our part to suppose that you are in the same frame of mind; as, with all our faults, we entertain the profound conviction that you love us still, as we love you.

The Irish community will certainly feel grateful to the National Government for its donation of $4000 to the Boys' Orphanage. Considering the bad times it is a generous offering.

A lengthy discussion between Senators Del Valle, Rojas, Alem, Pizarro and Perez regarding intervention in Mendoza was the only business done in Congress yesterday.

A football match, Quilmes v. Lomas, under Rugby Union rules, will be played at Lomas to-day. A splendid game is anticipated.

An Evangelistic Meeting of the Young Men's Association will be held to-morrow night in the School-room of the American Church.

With reference to Cleary's Opera Troupe, the public will be glad to hear that Mr. John Wilkinson, the most popular of all last year's company, has been engaged: he sailed from England on the 16th inst.

Out in California two old sailors, Godfrey Sykes and Charles McLean are making preparations to circumnavigate the globe in a 22-foot boat. Their course will be down the Gulf of California, along the Mexican and South American coast, round Cape Horn to Cape St. Roque, across the Atlantic to Sierra Leone, thence east along the European coast to Great Britain. They will return through the Mediterranean, Suez Canal, Indian Ocean and China Sea, and by the Russian coast to Alaska and thence home. Three months' provisions will be taken along, and the sailors expect to be gone nearly three years. McLean is a Scotchman and has been a whaler for seven years. Sykes is a well educated Englishman who ran away to sea. The two men with the same craze, a voyage round the Globe, met on an Arizona cattle ranch around a camp fire and made mutual confessions. They pooled their capital, built the boat, and are partners for life.

Lomas Harriers. Poor Harriers! We really sympathize with them: the rain was quite upset the long looked-for meet to-morrow. We would call the attention of our Sporting friends to the advertisement in our columns where it sets forth that the meet is postponed till Thursday the 28th inst. at the same time and place. Of course it has been equally necessary to put off the excursion trains from all parts of the country, and possibly the bands of music and other items of this great event may be somewhat curtailed, still wet or fine, dry or damp, we have good reason to know that the Thursday meet will be an enormous success and will draw crowds to see what promises to be the most picturesque reunion ever held in our Southern suburbs.

The Young Men's Association of the American Church announce another of their Social evening Entertainments for Tuesday, June 2nd. The full programme will be published next week.

The record of crime in Rosario yesterday was again terrible, its most revolting items being one man beheaded and another mortally stabbed. The corpse of the first was found on the bank of the river in an advanced stage of decomposition, and the crime is supposed to have been committed a week ago. This shows the kind of police they have in Rosario.

We find the following terrible crime at Carmen de Areco reported in the Southern Cross:—

"An atrocious crime was committed in this partido on last Sunday night, the 17th inst., about a league and-a-half from the town, the victim being Mr. Gregory Farrell. Mr. Farrell had been in the town on Sunday and left for home at five o'clock in the evening, accompanied by a youth of about twenty years of age, who had been with him during the day, and who was unknown in this locality. Unfortunately, they called at a "pulperia" on the road and remained there until eight o'clock at night, according to the account given by the "pulpero." The result was that Mr. Farrell was found dead on Monday morning by a child of his within a distance of about five squares from his house. The suspicion is that his companion must have been the murderer, as he left the town with him and also the "pulperia."

There is a tremendously long programme for the May Fetes to-day and to-morrow, but its salient items are the usual Te-Deum in the Cathedral, parade of troops, etc., and fireworks at the Retiro to-morrow. To-night a Popular Procession will parade the streets. The slab in honour of Artigas and Lucena will be affixed to the Pyramid in the Plaza to-day by the Lord Mayor, with the Corporation in attendance. Bands will play in the Plaza Victoria on both nights. Food will be distributed to the poor in several parishes. The public are requested to keep their flags hung out till the 26th. On Thursday the Boys' Regiments will be reviewed at Palermo by the Lord Mayor. It is needless to add that the small warriors will also parade with the troops in the Plaza to-morrow.

Benazin, the King of Dahomey, has sent a message of thanks to M. Carnot for the presents he sent. They made a strange collection, but apparently pleased his sable majesty. They consisted of a musical box, a case of champagne, a cigar-case and a dragoon's brass helmet. The horse's tail on the helmet was dyed green, that being the colour of the King's flag. The King expresses himself enchanted with the brass helmet, which he had, up to the date of his message to M. Carnot, worn several times when reviewing his troops.

The Olimpo Theatre at La Plata that is to be hammered away by Bulrich is not, as we thought, the new one that was opened last year; and the mortgage on it is only half $300,000. Probably this may induce people to invest.

Considering that the public spirits want raising at this date of glorious memories, it was most unpatriotic of the City Fathers to hold such a deadly dull sitting as they did on Friday. All the business transacted was of the red tape and routine order, and not worth further mention.

President Pellegrini gave a high tea last night to the Diplomatic Corps, members of Congress, high civil and military functionaries, and Notables in general.

Oh! The Board of Works and Bateman and Co. are still exchanging amenities on the best cream-laid note paper. In the last epistle received by the latter they are bluntly told by the B. o. W. that they have "proved unworthy of the confidence reposed in them by the Government!" This is the hardest hit as yet delivered by either side in the Bateman Legacy Tournament.

A Spanish galleon supposed to be full of treasure was discovered the other day by a diver in Maldonado Bay. President Herrera thinks that the National Bank of Uruguay may soon hope to convert its shinplasters, as the galleon will supply the needed coin.

We much regret to hear of the death of Mr. Major Mark, the popular purser of the Royal Mail steamer La Plata. The sad event took place when the vessel was three days out from Pernambuco. For thirty years Mr. Mark was known and highly esteemed in River Plate shipping circles.

Some of the Boy Soldiers are already imitating their betters, or rather their biggers. The other day at drill, one of the miniature officers beat a private with the flat of his sword for insubordination, but, as the private cried out lustily, the offic

Como es indispensable que toda reduccion sobre los fletes aprobados por el S. Gobierno sea hecha de conformidad con la citada Ley, es necesario que se verifique un convenio precio, por escrito entre la Administracion y los cargadores de estos productos a cuyo efecto deben los interesados dirijirse a aquella, sea en Monte Caseros o en Empredado, segun corresponda el transporte a una u otra seccion, solicitando de la respectiva rebaja.
Estas reducciones de fletes comprenden a todos los cargadores, tanto a los que remitan grandes cantidades como a los que envien pequeñas, mientras no sean menor de un wagon entero, a fin de evitar que la concesion de este beneficio de lugar a monopolios.
La tramitacion para obtener la reduccion de los fletes es sumamente sencilla, bastando al efecto un simple cambio de cartas entre esta Administracion y los interesados en conseguirla.

Con referencia a la circular dirigida a los accionistas el dia 30 de Enero los arreglos siguientes con referencia a los negocios y capital del Banco en el Brazil, han sido sometidos a una asamblea extraordinaria de accionistas y han sido confirmados por ellos.
Hace poco tiempo se hicieron propuestas a los Directores para la adquisicion en favor del Banco de Credito Universal (de Rio de Janeiro) de la llave de este Banco en el Brazil y despues de negociaciones considerables, se propusieron terminos al Directorio, los cuales en los intereses de los Accionistas creyeron seria conveniente aceptar.
Estos terminos estan ahora contenidos en un contrato y los compradores han pagado ya un deposito de 500,000 libras esterlinas como garantia del fiel cumplimiento de sus terminos.
Los terminos del contrato propuesto son que la llave del Banco en el Brazil, su activo alla junto con todas las casas del Banco y residencias de los gerentes y otros efectos hasta el valor de 4,500 Contos de Réis, seran vendidos por este Banco, al Banco de Credito Universal; reteniendo este Banco la llave de sus negocios en Londres, Rio de la Plata y cualquiera otro punto (excepto en el Brazil) y el pleno derecho de negociar en Inglaterra, Rio de la Plata y cualquiera otra parte ya sea con el Brazil o de otra manera.
El precio de compra es de 875,000 libras esterlinas, menos una comision de venta de 2 1/2 por ciento pagadera a los Señores Megaw y Norton, dejando una suma liquida equivalente en cifras redondas a la devolucion del capital le 500,000 libras esterlinas empleado en el Brazil a la par y 350,000 libras esterlinas por la llave del Barco en el Brasil.
Una de las condiciones del contrato es que esta Banco cambiara su nombre y adoptara un nombre que no indique un Banco que tenga sucursales en el Brasil, por lo tanto desde el 30 de Junio proximo y despues del cumplimiento de esta compra el Banco se llamara

EL BANCO BRITANICO de la America del Sud

El efecto de esta venta no sera solamente dar a este Banco una suma equivalente al total de su capital pagado y un capital del fondo de reserva de 350,000 libras esterlinas pero dejara tambien libre el fondo de reserva existente de 225,000 libras esterlinas.

GOLD:

BLACKSTONE'S PLOUGHS ARE ALWAYS THE SAME.
Worth their weight in Gold
AGENTS:
MOORE AND

The week closes rather unsatisfactorily; gold continues to shew an invincible repugnance to low rates, as it left off in the second hour at 62.70 for the ounce, which gives an equivalent of 385.25. A well informed party discussing the situation to-day said that he was convinced that there was no evading emission, as though the President may have received offers of capital for the new bank from Europe, it will never be given except the capitalists retain a certain command over it, which would not bethe case if the gold were handed over to the Caja de Conversion. As this is a fatal objection to the proposed scheme or to any scheme on similar lines, the alternative is emission. The consequences of this reasoning are most unpalatable. We may add that the party alluded to is a decided adversary of fresh emissions. In stocks the business done was much below the average, and it is noted that the great mass of brokers have deserted shares to deal in gold and cheques. Natonal Bank shares left off at 31, Catalinas at 6.10 and Constructor Obligations at 1.10, whilst Cedulas were even weaker than in the morning.

Provincial Bank cheques were done as high as 22½, closing at 19 to 20%. In National Bank cheques 12 to 15% were the rates quoted.

In exchange very little was done, 47id and 5 francs being still offered.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring :—

At the meeting of shareholders of the National Bank called yesterday by Mr V. Casares, with a view to eliciting the opinion of the shareholders with regard to the Unique Bank project, there was a fair attendance, but no resolution was arrived at, for which reason another meeting will be held to-morrow. Mr. Casares' idea is to induce the shareholders to take up a whole series of the new shares firm, and undoubtedly it is to the interest of the shareholders to avail themselves as far as possible of the right of subscription offered them in the project.

The balance sheet of the National Bank to April 30th was handed round to-day and it can scarcely be said to be at all satisfactory, the cash on hand figuring at 54 million paper, the bad and doubtful debts at 1,680,640 gold and 284 millions paper, Profit and Loss account 2 millions gold and 124 millions paper and deposits at 8 millions gold and 149,394,357 paper, against which the cartera stands at 74 millions gold and 1792 millions paper. We give the balance sheet in full at foot.

In re Percy Heurtley v Escalada and Ramallo the Supreme Court of Justice has revoked the sentence of the Lower Court which was against the former. The question at issue was whether Messrs Escalada and Ramallo should pay a bill, they signed in pesos fuertes, in gold or in the nominal amount of moneda curso legal. The Supreme Court has given sentence obliging Messrs. Escalada and Ramallo to pay the bill in gold, or in moneda of curso legal to the equivalent value of that gold, according to the terms of the law of 14th October 1885.

The following is the balance-sheet of the National Bank up to 30th of April :

Muy Señores Mios,

Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no queria darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera oveja por mas fina y arrugada que sea: saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas lastimaduras sanan facilmente, y se hacen cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.

Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos. Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendolas a la tijera.

Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE.

The original and only genuine

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary aching of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, etc.

From Symes & Co', Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880.

To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Lear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation dury many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION,—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworom to.—See the "Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelmning medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Befare of Piracy and Imitations.

Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33 Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London.

At the Estancia Grande, the property of GEORGE BELL, there are always on Sale Clydesdale and Cleveland Stallions, Durham Bulls, and Lincoln Rams, also Potros suitable for carriages and heavy draught.

As all animals offered for sale at this Estancia are by stallions, bulls, etc., imported direct from England by the owner, it would therefore be advantageous for intending purchasers to inspect the same before purchasing elsewhere.

Nearest Station (under a league from the Estancia) EMPALME PEREIRA F.C. a La Plata from whence animals can be despatched to any part of the Republic.

Animals of the same breeds are obtainable at the Estancia La Favorita. Apply to the Mayodomo, Almacen La Suiza, Carrera Tandil a Necochea, or to Hotel Dhees, Tandil; also at Estancia Santa Catalina. Apply Mayordomo, San Jose de la Esquina, F.C.O.S. Rosario.
